
Take Their Word for It!

"We found the online courses provide a high-quality, unique opportunity for the teachers in the program to learn at their own pace, interact with one another and the instructor, and most importantly take what was learned and immediately apply it to their classroom practice."

Charlene Frollo
BTSA Director
Evergreen School District

"The rich content and resources are specific to classroom applications. They created a great foundation for support provider collaboration and for coaching that is connected to formative assessment events."

Sharon Weight
BTSA Consortium Director
Campbell Union School District

"This is an exciting opportunity for new teachers to participate in high quality professional development. The online venue provides a unique opportunity for teachers to engage with a community of learners and expert instructors."

Ellen Moir
Executive Director
New Teacher Center @ UCSC

"This innovative program allows public school employees from around the country to participate in professional growth opportunities that expand their knowledge and expertise, and obtain professional development units."
